Navigating Uncharted Waters

CORPORATE ANNUAL SUMMARY
For the year ended December 31, 2017
Dear Friends of Lyngblomsten:

What began as a group of Norwegian women navigating uncharted waters, believing that God would show them the way 112 years ago, continues with our voyage today. We have a different set of issues directing our sails, however. Recruiting and retaining high-quality staff is more difficult now than perhaps ever before. We have an aging care center that needs significant upgrades and repairs. And there is a growing number of older adults requiring services.

We know that it all begins and ends with quality people: caregivers who have a strong desire to serve others. It’s no surprise, then, that with the continued strain on an already insufficient workforce, Lyngblomsten has adopted a thorough approach to recruiting and retaining staff. Despite our high marks in this area over the past decade, maintaining a strong work culture should be our highest priority.

If you have walked through our care center recently, you’ve noticed a facility that is showing wear and tear. Our last significant renovation was more than 15 years ago. We spent most of 2017 preparing and planning with architects, designers, and funders on a renovation that will modernize our building and its equipment and furnishings. It’s believed that this much-needed renovation, set to begin in 2018, will position us well for the aging baby boomer generation.

We are meeting the Age Wave on two fronts. First, 2nd Half with Lyngblomsten, our new life enrichment model of service for adults over the age of 50 living in the community, finished its first full year of operation. This comprehensive model not only serves older adults and caregivers but also engages volunteers and leverages strong partnerships with area churches. Second, we have searched for new land to build another residential services campus. Thus far, the route to this goal has encountered twists and turns, but we remain steadfast.

As we look to 2018 and beyond, our efforts will require creativity and perseverance. Integrating technology in the ways we serve others and infusing additional efforts in fundraising will undoubtedly be critical to future success.

Just as the generations of Lyngblomsten leaders and supporters have done for decades, together, we will be bold and courageous as we face uncharted waters. We feel reassured by recent awards, and we are filled with hope, knowing that God is there to guide us wherever we go.

In Christ,

Jeffrey Heinecke

Residential Services

- Lyngblomsten’s commitment to providing excellent care earned the Care Center a five-star (highest possible) quality rating from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.
- Lyngblomsten Care Center rolled out its Dining Experience program in early 2017, providing increased resident empowerment and choice, increased socialization between residents and staff, and an improved mealtime ambiance in dining rooms.
- The Care Center began a partnership with Metro State and the Minnesota Alliance for Nursing Education. Through this partnership, Lyngblomsten hosts nursing students for a capstone practicum experience as they complete training to become registered nurses through undergraduate programs. The Care Center also hosts students for their long-term care clinical rotations.
- Lyngblomsten added aromatherapy to its enrichment programs offered to tenants of the Lyngblomsten Apartments, to home health services offered to tenants of The Heritage at Lyngblomsten, and to residents of the Care Center. Aromatherapy is the use of essential oils from plants (flowers, herbs, or trees) as therapy to improve physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being.

Community Services

- 2nd Half with Lyngblomsten (the new service model combining the previously separate community-based programs) completed its first year of full year of operations in 2017. During this time, several new evidence-based health and wellness programs debuted, and a faith community nurse joined the team to support and expand health and spiritual wellness offerings.
- Lyngblomsten Community Services received a Live Well at Home grant award from the Minnesota Department of Human Services to develop and launch new respite programs that will serve caregivers and care recipients in their homes through trained volunteers and video communication technology. The pilot phases of the programs will begin in 2018.

Community Engagement

- Thanks to the generosity of 823 donors, the Lyngblomsten Foundation raised more than $345,600 for Lyngblomsten programs and services between October 1, 2016, and September 30, 2017.
- Lyngblomsten was certified as a Service Enterprise in May 2017 by the Service Enterprise Initiative. The certification recognizes nonprofits that strategically engage volunteers and their skills across all levels of the organization to deliver successfully on their social missions. Lyngblomsten is the first senior care organization in Minnesota to become a Service Enterprise.
- Lifelong Learning and the Arts continuing education programs for volunteers launched. These programs allow current and prospective volunteers to learn new skills they can use in their service at Lyngblomsten.
- The Lyngblomsten Mid-Summer Festival attracted about 1,200 people to Lyngblomsten’s campus and had new features like a wellness lounge and theater performers.

An Award-Winning Year

- President & CEO Jeff Heinecke was named a recipient of LeadingAge Minnesota’s 50 for the Next 50 award. The award honored leaders who pursue innovation and advance excellence in aging services, make forward-looking changes in their organizations, serve as motivational leaders and mentors, and empower Minnesotans to age well and live fully.
- Lyngblomsten awarded the Anna Quale Fergstad Award for Distinguished Service to Dr. Leslie Grant for decades of transformative work to enhance the lives of older adults both on and off the Lyngblomsten campus through his work and volunteerism. Grant is an associate professor and director of the Center for Aging Services Management at the University of Minnesota–Twin Cities.
- eMenuCHOICE® won bronze in the Innovator of the Year award category at the national McKnight’s Technology Awards. The award recognizes senior care organizations that use technology to improve quality of care and cost savings. eMenuCHOICE also expanded its client base from 12 to 48 sites located in seven states.
- Lyngblomsten Community Services received national recognition for providing outstanding community services and support to people with memory loss and their caregivers through The Gathering. The Brookdale Foundation Group awarded Lyngblomsten the Rose Dobrof Award in October 2017. A monetary award accompanying the honor was directed to ongoing financial support for the continued offering of dignified, enriching programming through The Gathering.
